

MY MOTIVATION

I'm Alexander Abele an Advanced Product Designer from Germany.

As a Designer, I would like to use my passion to create any kind of user interaction regardless if it is for a product, service or experience. Technology is constantly evolving and digitalization, artificial intelligence, and automation are getting essential for any kind of business segment. I would like to use my strengths in Product Design, User Experience, and Strategic Design to support your company and customers in the future.
